CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Friday, October 26th, 2007

SPECIAL EVENT

21st Annual Diversity Recruitment Night
College Avenue Student Center, 4:45 - 7:00pm
GSAPP Faculty requested to attend
See page 3 for details

Sunday, October 28th, 2007

Eighth Annual New Jersey Obsessive Compulsive Foundation Conference
Doubletree Hotel in Somerset
For more info go to: WWW.NJOCF.ORG

Monday, October 29th, 2007

Clinical Faculty Meeting
A302, 10:00 - 11:30am

Wednesday, October 31st, 2007

Colloquium presented by Dr. Thomas R. Kratochwill from the University of Wisconsin, Madison
A317, 12:15 - 1:30pm

Thursday, November 1st, 2007

School Psychology Research Training and Practice Network Workshop
Busch Student Center
Room 116, 9:00am - 1:00pm

Monday, November 5th, 2007

Clinical Faculty Meeting
A302, 10:00 - 11:30am

Faculty Pictures

Photos are being taken for our new and updated website and it is important for every faculty member to have this done.
Your cooperation is much appreciated by the Deans
A333 - Faculty Lounge
12:30 - 4:00pm
Faculty Council Meeting
A302, 4:00pm

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

Page 2

Congratulations

Honing a Poet

Colloquium

Page 3

Job Available

Conference

Page 4

Student Opportunity

Scholarship

QUESTIONS AND SUBMISSIONS FOR PUBLICATION IN THE GSAPP GAZETTE SHOULD BE SENT BY WEDNESDAY NOON OF THE WEEK YOU WISH TO SEE ITEM PUBLISHED TO:

ARLENE MILLER
EMAIL: RELLIM@RCI.RUTGERS.EDU
FAX: 732-445-4888
CONGRATULATIONS

Best wishes to Mark Palmieri and his wife Kristin for tying the knot on September 2nd 2007. We wish them a future of happiness!!

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES TO OUR OCTOBER 2007 PSYD GRADUATES!!!!

   Miriam Alonzo  - Clinical Laurie Lewis  - Clinical
   Margaret Lundrigan  - School
   Mark Palmieri  - Clinical Guldeniz Yucelen  - Clinical

HONORING A POET

The Star Ledger  9/20/07
Job Corps school finds place to honor a poet
Thursday, September 20, 2007
BY SULEMAN DIN, Star-Ledger Staff
The Edison Job Corps Academy has named the school's campus library in honor of the literary legacy of Joyce Kilmer, New Brunswick's most famous writer. "We've dedicated it to his literature, to his patriotism," said Mitchell Yourman, director of academic and career technical training.
The one-room library is decorated with memorabilia about Kilmer, the journalist and World War I soldier who is best-known for his poem "Trees."
Included in the library's collection is a painting of the white oak tree that is said to have inspired Kilmer's poem. Yourman said a piece of that tree, which is preserved at Rutgers University, would also be donated to the library.
Pushing for the library was Lola Clarke, a clinical psychology student at Rutgers University, who works at the academy. She noticed the students she was seeing were having problems reading. The library gives them an opportunity to be in a leisurely environment and the chance to learn communication skills not taught at trade schools, she said.
"It builds self-esteem," Clarke said. "You can't complete an application if you don't understand it, or you won't know how to present yourself in an interview."
Lola is a 5th year student in the Clinical PsyD program.

COLLOQUIUM

On 28 November, Dr. Kenneth Levy of Penn State will present a colloquium talk on "Transference Focused Psychotherapy for Borderline Personality Disorder." His work on psychotherapy process and outcome includes a comparison between Transference Focused Psychotherapy and Dialectical Behavior Therapy in the treatment of patients with Borderline Personality Disorder, with findings of great significance for the treatment of patients with this condition.
Dr. Levy is a broadly trained researcher with interests that bridge developmental, social, and clinical psychology. He has also contributed to the literature on the implications of attachment theory, neurocognitive aspects of attachment and personality disorder, and work on the developmental precursors of personality problems in children of parents with personality disorders.
JOB AVAILABLE

Assistant or associate professor. Argosy University, Washington, DC, Campus (founded as the American School of Professional Psychology) is seeking exceptional applicants for three anticipated positions in our APA-Accredited practitioner-scholar doctoral (PsyD) clinical psychology program. Successful candidates will join a large, diverse, and cohesive faculty of outstanding practitioner-scholars. Applicants must have a commitment to graduate instruction, training effective clinicians, supervision of student research, academic advisement, and involvement in professional and scholarly activity. Area of specialty remains open, but we are particularly interested in experienced faculty in the areas of Psychological Assessment as well as Child and Family. Experience is also desirable in the areas of Forensic Psychology, Health Psychology, and Neuropsychology. Candidates must hold a doctoral degree in psychology from an APA-Accredited program and be license-eligible in VA. We are committed to racial, cultural, and gender diversity among our faculty and students. Competitive salary and benefits. Submit letter of intent, CV, evidence of clinical, teaching and research excellence, and a list of three professional references to: dcresume@argosy.edu. For more information, please go to website: www.argosy.edu.

CONFERENCE

The fourth annual NJEdge Technology in Education conference will be held on October 31st - November 2nd at the Wyndham Conference Center in Plainsboro. The workshops, plenary sessions, and ePoster sessions will cover a wide range of educational technology issues including--eLearning and Libraries, Emerging Technologies, Policy Issues and Strategic Planning, and Network and Systems Computing. Five Rutgers’ staff members are scheduled to present topics at this event. IT professionals, faculty, and administrators will benefit and are encouraged to attend. Rutgers is a member of NJEdge and the discounted member's rates will apply to everyone from Rutgers who registers. Visit the NJEdge website at http://www.njedge.net/conference2007/index.html to register and learn more about this exciting conference or send email to cio@rutgers.edu.
STUDENT OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Educational, School, and Counseling Psychology at the University of Missouri-Columbia (MU) invites applications to the Multicultural Teaching Scholars (MTS) program for the Summer of 2008. The Scholar would be on campus for either Summer Session I (June 9-July 2) or Summer Session II (July 7-August 1) to teach (or co-teach) a graduate level course in the department. Interested candidates should send a letter of interest, vita, official transcripts of graduate study (for all institutions where graduate work was completed), and three letters of recommendation concerning teaching and research skills (hard copies only please, electronic copies will not be accepted) to: Dr. Lisa Y. Flores, 16 Hill Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO 65211.

For more info about the MTS program, please visit: http://gradschool.missouri.edu/about-us/initiatives/multicultural-teaching-scholars/.

SCHOLARSHIP

request for Applications

Annette Urso Rickel Dissertation Award for Public Policy

The American Psychological Foundation (APF) is a nonprofit, philanthropic organization that advances the science and practice of psychology as a means of understanding behavior and promoting health, education, and human welfare.

The APF Annette Urso Rickel Foundation Dissertation Award for Public Policy supports dissertation research on public policy, which has the potential to improve services for children and families facing psychosocial issues. Examples of eligible topics include but are not limited to issues with at-risk populations, prevention of child abuse, services for youth in the criminal justice system, effectiveness of school programs for children with psychological issues, using psychology in public policy to improve math and science education, and promoting healthy parenting.

To apply for this $1,000 scholarship, applicants must be graduate students in psychology enrolled full time and in good standing academically. Individuals who represent diversity in race, ethnicity, gender, age, and sexual orientation are encouraged to apply. Submit a dissertation summary, including a brief description of the research design and budget (three-page limit, font size no smaller than 11); letter of recommendation from a faculty advisor and current CV online at http://forms.apa.org/apf/grants/ by November 1, 2007.

For more info, visit www.apa.org/apf.