1pm – 4pm
GSAPP Student Lounge
152 Frelinghuysen Road, Piscataway light refreshments will be served

\textbf{Shooting Stars} is a therapy group for adolescents in foster care that utilizes photography as a means of communication, identity formation, and relationship building. The group is run through the \textbf{Foster Care Counseling Project} and lead by \textbf{Ewa Lavin} and \textbf{Lara Brodzinsky}. The photo exhibit represents both a culmination of our group work as well as a celebration of self expression.

\textbf{Come support the kids, all are welcome!}

POSTDOCTORAL POSITION

Argosy University, Seattle Psychology Center has an opening starting July 1, 2010 for a post-doctoral fellow in clinical psychology. The fellow will receive intensive experience in psychological assessment, psychotherapy, supervision, and mental health administration. Additional supervised experiences in classroom teaching are another expectation and a unique aspect of this post-doctoral fellowship. The fellow will be expected to maintain a clinical caseload consisting of psychological assessments and psychotherapy, as well as manage the day to day operations of the Psychology Center. The fellow will also receive training in supervision of graduate students and in classroom teaching. This is a full time, 2 year position with competitive salary and full benefits package. Candidates who have completed their doctoral degrees in clinical or counseling psychology prior to July 1, 2010 are strongly preferred. To apply, please email your CV, transcript, and letter of interest to the Center Director, Douglas Whiteside, PhD, ABPP, at dwhiteside@argosy.edu. Please also arrange to have 3 letter of recommendations forwarded to Dr. Whiteside. Mail applications will also be accepted at: Douglas Whiteside, PhD, ABPP, Associate Professor of Psychology, Director, AUS Psychology Center, Argosy University, Seattle, 2601-A Elliott Avenue, Seattle, WA 98121
