GSAPP AND ALUMNI ORGANIZATION THIRD ANNUAL AWARD CELEBRATION
TICKETS STILL ON SALE TILL APRIL 20TH
MORE INFORMATION ON PAGES 3, 4 & 5
GSAPP’s Minority and International Alumni dinner will be held on Friday, April 9th, at 6:30 p.m. This annual dinner is designed to expose current GSAPP students who are interested in promoting diversity to minority and international alumni who are doing important work in the field. A panel of diverse alumni provides brief presentations on topics such as how they navigated their dissertations, internships, and built their current careers.

This year’s theme is “Traditional and Specialized Careers in School and Clinical Psychology.” A second goal of the dinner is to provide opportunities for alumni to network with each other and with current students, within an informal setting that involves the consumption of delicious ethnic food.

Please go to the GSAPP web site and sign up for this event to have a count for food.

For those alumni and students who want to have input into how GSAPP addresses issues of diversity, please arrive by 5 pm to be part of the Dean’s Multicultural Advisory Committee (DMAC) Meeting. A link is provided on the GSAPP home page for you to sign up separately for the DMAC.

We look forward to seeing you there.

Shalonda Kelly, Nancy Boyd-Franklin, and Brian Chu, COD
The event will honor GSAPP alumni and introduce two unique musical performances. The “Primitive Soul Band” will perform throughout the evening. It is a highly accomplished and musically versatile New Jersey band that plays at multiple charitable events across the country.

Additionally, Lucille Carr-Kaffashan, a psychologist and renowned NYC cabaret singer, will also make a special appearance. So, do not miss it! The hotel is beautiful and dinner will not disappoint. Ticket prices are extremely reasonable in view of the entertainment provided. Fill up the Ticket Sales Form (links are below), and mail to Sylvia Krieger at GSAPP.

Alumni are encouraged to sponsor current GSAPP students to attend the event. If you are interested in purchasing advertisement or personal greeting space on the event brochure, the ADVERTISEMENT DEADLINE has been extended to April 9. Register to attend the event and/or to sponsor a student by filling out the Ticket Sales Form on http://gsappweb.rutgers.edu/ or http://gsappweb.rutgers.edu/alumni/

The following two pages also have the forms.

Do not wait, I want to see you there!

The Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute (FMHI) at the University of South Florida (USF) invites applications for a post-doctoral fellowship in behavioral health services research. The fellowship is funded through a contract with the Florida Agency for Health Care Administration, the state’s Medicaid authority. The successful candidate will receive training in policy and services research methods associated with the financing and delivery of services to individuals diagnosed with mental health and addictive disorders. Although the successful candidate will develop an individualized training plan tailored to their specific needs and interests, training will likely include intensive mentorship from a multi-disciplinary team of faculty, didactic courses and lecture series, and guided research activities. The 2-year fellowship will provide both research and academic training. The salary ranges from $38,000 to $42,000 per year and a benefit package is provided.

Faculty at the Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute conduct research and provide consultation and training to promote the quality of behavioral health services in Florida and the nation. The Louis de la Parte Institute, whose foundation (core) is made up of faculty and staff from three Departments; Aging and Mental Health Disparities, Child and Family Studies, and Mental Health Law and Policy as well as other faculty and partners, is located within the College of Behavioral and Community Sciences at the USF. USF is a Research I University, (http://www.usf.edu) and the ninth largest university in the United States. The University’s diverse population reflects the ethnic and cultural heritage of the Tampa Bay region. A teaching, research, service and training institution, FMHI, through its collaboration with community providers and academic programs and departments at USF, serves as a bridge between the University and the public health systems. For more information about the Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute individuals departments, visit: http://fmhi.usf.edu. Additional questions about the position should be directed to Dr. Roger A. Boothroyd (boothroyd@fmhi.usf.edu).

Applicants must hold a terminal degree (e.g., PhD, DPH) in anthropology, psychology, sociology, public health, social work, economics, or related field when they begin the fellowship and have a demonstrated record of research experience or interest in child and adolescent, adult, or geriatric behavioral health services research, policy analysis, or evaluation. Experience in analyzing administrative data is preferred but not required. Commitment to a career in research, teaching, and/or program evaluation is extremely important. The fellowship is scheduled to begin in the fall semester of 2010.

Applicants must apply for these positions through the on-line employment application system Careers@USF. The review of applications will begin immediately and applications received by March 12, 2010 will be guaranteed consideration. The search will remain open until the position is filled. Applicants will complete an on-line application; enter basic demographic information and upload: (1) a cover letter detailing research interests, experience, and career goals, (2) a CV, (3) two letters of recommendation, and (4) up to three representative publications or manuscripts. If you have any difficulties submitting your application, please contact Human Resources at USFCareers-Help@admin.usf.edu. For additional information you may contact Dr. Roger Boothroyd, Associate Chair and Professor, at (boothroyd@fmhi.usf.edu).
