Rutgers University-New Brunswick invites applications for two faculty positions in clinical psychology. For both positions, candidates must demonstrate the capacity to establish an independent research program and to procure external funding for that research. Rutgers provides opportunities for collaboration with faculty in the Department of Psychology, Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology, interdisciplinary research centers, and the adjacent Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Rutgers is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and has a strong institutional commitment to increasing ethnic diversity among the faculty. For both positions, applications should send a curriculum vitae, personal statement of research aims and teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants will be reviewed until the positions are filled.

(1) The first position is a tenure-track faculty position in Clinical Psychology at the Assistant Professor level in the Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology (GSAPP). Responsibilities include teaching graduate level courses to PsyD students, supervising their clinical work, and mentoring them in research and professional development. The candidate will also have the opportunity to become an active member of the Department of Psychology’s PhD training program in Clinical Psychology and supervise PhD student research. Area of clinical research is open. Please see our website for further information about GSAPP at http://gsappweb.rutgers.edu/. Send application materials to Chair, Clinical Psychology Search Committee, GSAPP, Rutgers University, 152 Frelinghuysen Road, Piscataway, New Jersey, 08854-8085.

(2) The second position is a tenure-track or tenured faculty position in Clinical Psychology at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the Department of Psychology in the School of Arts and Sciences. Responsibilities include playing an integral role in the Department’s clinical scientist PhD program and teaching undergraduates. Applicants conducting research on any fundamental topic within clinical psychology (including, but not limited to: experimental psychopathology; clinical-health research; and treatment mechanisms and outcome) will be considered. Please see our website for further information about the department: http://psych.rutgers.edu/. Send application materials to Chair, Clinical Search Committee, Department of Psychology, Rutgers University, 152 Frelinghuysen Road, Piscataway, New Jersey, 08854-8020.