

Magen David Yeshivah Elementary School

Description of School:

Magen David Elementary school is an Orthodox Jewish day school serving the needs of the Sephardic community. There are currently over 1500 students in the school from preschool through eighth grade. Magen David is committed to ensuring that each student receives a comprehensive dual-curriculum education, rooted in Sephardic tradition, and emphasizing academic excellence, creativity and intellectual curiosity. The staff operates with a growth mindset that is rooted in data collection and analysis.

Guidance Team:

The guidance team of psychologists and social workers collaborate on implementing best practices within our school setting. Our biweekly team meetings offer opportunities for case conferencing, vision and goal setting, evaluating and building upon tools and resources, and provide a forum for collegial support and professional development.

Internship Position:

This is a full time, 10-month position, with a stipend.

Intern Responsibilities:

Consultation and collaboration with teachers, faculty, parents, and outside providers to address student academic, social, emotional and behavioral needs; regular attendance at case conferences with administrators and other faculty; functional analysis of student behavior leading to intervention planning and implementation; scoring and interpretation of rating scales and other screening/evaluation measures; development and implementation of counseling groups targeting specific areas of student needs; data collection and analysis at the systemic level to aid with program planning and evaluation; possible opportunities to co-develop and facilitate parent or teacher workshops; crisis intervention at the student and school-wide level as necessary

Training and Supervision:

Two hours of weekly individual supervision with a licensed psychologist

Biweekly supervision with director of guidance

Weekly GSAPP School Psychology Internship Seminar and Group Supervision

Internal professional development and opportunities to attend additional trainings

Qualifications:

Certified as a school psychologist; experience with behavior planning, teacher and parent consultation, and running groups; strong interpersonal skills; collaborates and works well with a team; experience with program planning a plus

To Apply:

We Adhere to APPIC Match guidelines